We always start a new relationship with a lot of passion, enthusiasm, positive thinking and a commitment to the relationship working for both parties!

Then why is it that such exiting beginning, often turn into mediocrity, survival and even breaking up?

What is our part in an unhappy situation like that?

Because of lack of effective communication and lack of understanding about another's world and what they are dealing with when being with us!

This situation mostly leads to unfulfilled expectations, emotional & physical separations and even severe dislike before we even become aware of it!

In this workshop you will discover and examine:

- 21 different mistakes that we can avoid in any relationship.
- Warning signs that our relationship is off track, and what to do about it.
- How to be 100% accountable for the success of our relationships – not 50/50!
